VOLUME XXIX NO. 84 SEYMOUR, INDIANA, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1910. PRICE TWO CENTS

HOME TELEPHONE CO.

Will Close its Exchange Board on April 1.

After April 1 the Seymour Home Telephone Company will close its exchange and discontinue business in this city. This was decided upon this morning after an agreement had been reached between the old company and the Seymour Mutual Company. The closing of the exchange of the Home Company leaves the Mutual Company in control of the telephone situation in Seymour.

According to the agreement this morning the franchise and all the equipment outside the city belonging to the old company becomes the property of the Mutual Company, while the wires, poles and other equipment in the city will be taken down and sent to other cities.

The Home Company was sold at Brownstown at a receiver's sale on Friday, February 11, to the Central Home Telephone and Telegraph Company of Louisville for $625 above the expenses incurred by the receiver's sale which amounted to about $1800. It was through this company that the final agreement was made.

The closing of the exchange of the Home Telephone Company in this city is the final chapter of a long and hard telephone fight, which was watched with interest by many other cities in Southern Indiana. The fight first began several years ago when the Home Company, which operated the only exchange in this city at that time, announced that the rates would be raised on all residence phones from $1.25 to $1.50 and on all business phones from $2.25 to $2.50. The Merchants' Association and the citizens objected to the increase in the rates and several meetings were held to adopt some plan to fight the increase. It was finally agreed by a number of the merchants and other citizens to have their telephones removed if the rates were increased. The telephone company refused to furnish phones at the old rates and for several months a large number of business houses and dwellings had their phones removed. An agreement was finally made however, whereby the old subscribers were to receive the phone service for old rate, while all new subscribers must pay the increased price. This made two different rates in the city and was by no means satisfactory to the company nor to the subscribers.

About two years ago the old company sent out a letter to their subscribers stating that the rates would be raised at a certain date. Again the subscribers objected and asked the Merchants' Association to take up fight. Several public meetings were held and it seemed to be the opinion of the subscribers that the rates should not be raised with the service which was then being given by that company. A large number of phones were ordered out a second time, and the majority of them were never replaced.

The citizens then suggested that a mutual company be organized, and a new plant and exchange be constructed. Several public spirited men made it known that they would take a large part of the stock if the company was organized. In a short time the men who had the new company in charge sold a sufficient amount of stock to insure a new plant and the company was organized as the Seymour Mutual Telephone Company. The shares which sold for $25 were rapidly taken up from that time.

When it became known that a new company was being contemplated, one of the most bitter telephone fight ever waged in Indiana was begun. Letters were published by both companies in which the question was discussed thoroughly. All the merchants in the association agreed not to replace the old phone and with a very few exceptions this agreement was kept.

The Home Company after April will remove all the phone boxes now in use and will ship them to other places. The long distance wires belonging to the Home Company which come into this city will be connected with the exchange of the Mutual Company and when this is done long distance calls over the Independent or Bell systems may be made through the exchange board here.

This change, whereby but one exchange board will be operated in this city will meet with the approval of the subscribers of both companies. It is well recognized that one company will be much more satisfactory and the subscribers will be pleased to learn that the two companies could reach this agreement.

Asks $500 Damages.

Daniel Green has filed a complaint in the Jackson Circuit court against the Western Union Telegraph Company asking for the sum $500 for damages which he claims he suffered because of an alleged delay of the telegraph company in transmitting a message. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff is an engineer of a stationary engine and that a company in Indianapolis had sent a telegram to him on January 11, instructing him to come to that city for the purpose of accepting employment in their factory as engineer. The plaintiff alleges further that the telegram was not transmitted as soon as it was received at the Indianapolis office and was thereby delayed several hours. He claims that he answered the message but when he arrived in Indianapolis the position had been given to another man. He says that if the telegram had been sent out without delay he could have reached the city in time to secure the position. He avers that he was to receive $10.50 per week and has suffered damages to the amount of $500. F. W. Wesner is attorney for Green.

Township Committee Meets.

At a meeting of the Republican township committee, Saturday, March 26, was selected as the date for the Convention to select the delegates to the State Convention. Jesse Weaver was elected chairman, and George T. Bartlett secretary of the meeting.

The township Convention will be called at 7:30 o'clock. Five delegates and five alternates will be elected for the State Convention.

TOMORROW

Will be Bargain Day For The Daily Republican.

Tomorrow will be the fourth annual bargain day at the REPUBLICAN office. Yearly subscription paid in advance will be accepted for $4.00, or $1.20 less than the regular price. Saturday March 19 marks the close of the fourteenth business year of the present publishers and they again make their liberal offer for the one day only. In order to get the advantage of this special rate which is strictly in advance, all arrearage if any must be paid.

This is an extraordinary offer from the financial standpoint as an opportunity is given whereby a saving of 25 per cent. can be made over the regu price. Any business man will readily agree that this is a proposition well worth serious consideration.

The REPUBLICAN is recognized as the best paper in Jackson county, because it prints more home news than other newspaper in Jackson county. Besides its news features every Saturday a four page colored comic supplement is issued that is the equal of the best comic supplements put out by the large city dailies.

The circulation of the Seymour Daily REPUBLICAN has increased steadily. In the month of February, the average daily circulation was nearly 1,150, the largest circulation, ever had by any daily newspaper in Jackson.

The special offer is good for one day only, and any one so desiring may take advantage of the reduced rate on Saturday, March 19. This will be a splendid time for those who are not taking the REPUBLICAN to begin their subscriptions and get the benefit of the big reduction in price. When you receive a sample copy this evening it is an invitation to you to take advantage of our bargain day offer.

May Furnish Light.

Scottsburg is now considering a proposition submitted by the Indianapolis and Louisville Traction company to furnish electricity for lighting purposes. The company purposes to install all the wires, poles and other necessary equipment and furnish direct current of $1,200 volts at the rate of 3 cents per kilowatt hour. In case the citizens should desire an alternating current for commercial lighting, the town will have the privilege of installing a motor generator at the company's power house, and current will be furnished at the same rate per kilowatt hour. The I. & L. traction company are now lighting Crothersville and Henryville.

Men Interested.

It is understood that the men of Brownstown are now taking an interest in the cases which have been filed as a result of the raids which were made some time ago in that town. While the women apparently have the management of campaign for law enforcement, a large number of men, are furnishing the financial aid and doing whatever they can to assist in the good work which is now in progress in the town. The men as well as the women want to see the law enforced and have promised to fight the cases to the finish.

New Books.

Upon the request of the W. C. T. U. the following new books have been added to the Seymour Public Library:

COUNCIL MEETING

Routine Business Transacted at Regular Meeting.

The city council met in regular session Thursday evening with all the members present except Sherman Day.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Councilman Davison stated that a horse had been purchased of P. W. Seeger for $225. He moved that amount be allowed to pay for same. Carried.

Councilman Hodapp stated that city park was being cleaned up by workmen as ordered.

The following claims were presented and allowed:

|---|---|
| Andrew Richardson, labor | $ 7 35 |
| Henry Alfie, labor | 9 45 |
| W. M. Aufenberg, labor | 16 20 |
| L. Smith, labor | 21 30 |

| Seymour Gas & Electric Co | 7 86 |
| Mrs. Constance, cleaning city building | 6 00 |
| Democratic Sun, Printing | 17 60 |
| Seymour REPUBLICAN, printing. | 6 30 |

Mayor Swope stated that Paul Marcus had asked for permission to place a sign on building at corner of Second and Indianapolis Avenue. Councilmen did not believe that they had right to grant such privilege. They also believe that obstructions should not be placed on sidewalks.

Street Commissioner made itemized report of work done. The report showed that two alleys were cleaned on March 11, and Councilman Davison asked for an explanation as to how this could be done when Street Commissioner spent the day at the poles of the democratic primary. No explanation made.

Councilman Taskey stated that the residents along west Tipton street wished the hitch rack in front of Baptist church removed. The matter was referred to city attorney to investigate the manner in which the racks were erected.

City Engineer E. B. Douglass stated that he was required to go to Brownstown in order to examine the county records before he could locate the alley in Block 19, Butler's Addition. He said the boundary lines were now located and he thought the alley could be opened in a short time.

Councilman Taskey stated that wings should be built on the opening of the tile at the corner of Lynn and Brown streets. Work ordered to be done by Street Commissioner.

The bond of John Bauermeister, as night policeman was read and approved.

The city engineer and street Commissioner were instructed to repair sewer between Second and Third streets.

City Attorney reported that C. A. Tripp, consulting engineer at Indianapolis had sent tentative plans and bids which had been corrected and returned. The plans and bids will probably be returned corrected this evening.

A letter from the Medora Shale and Brick Company stated that paving bricks could be purchased for $14.50 per thousand. Letter placed on file for future reference.

City marshal reported that he had notified W. F. Pfaffenberger that a branch on a shade tree in front of his home on Indianapolis Avenue must be removed which had not been done. Upon motion of Mills city marshal was instructsd to notify Mr. Pfaffenberger to remove the limb without further delay.

Money Saving.

Twice a year the Cooperative Building and Loan Association starts a new series of stock, the next series beginning Monday, April 4. This gives every citizen of Seymour and Jackson county a splendid opportunity to save money in small amounts each week, and at the same time have the money earning dividends from the time it is paid in. The plan is this:

Every stockholder pays in each week twenty-five cents for each share he owns. These combined payments are loaned by the Association and secured by first mortgage on real estate. The interest on these loans is paid monthly. Every three months this interest and other profits accruing are distributed to the credit of each series of stock according to the amount that has been paid in on the series. The amount of dividend on each series goes to the credit of each stockholder in the series. This is repeated every three months until such time as the payments by the stockholder and the dividends amount to one hundred dollars. Then the stock is matured and the stockholder draws out the full one hundred dollars per share.

At the opening of the new series is the best time to take stock and begin regular saving of money where it will earn additional money all the time. Besides the regular money-saving habit is a good one to cultivate.

See the secretary, Thos. J. Clark, at once and arrange for as many shares as you wish to carry. Opera house block.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Oronogo, Mo.—"I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I could not even receive a letter. Every month I had such a bearing down sensation, as if the lower parts would fall out. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done my nerves a great deal of good and has also relieved the bearing down. I recommended it to some friends and two of them have been greatly benefited by it."—Mrs. MAE MCKNIGHT, Oronogo, Mo.

Another Grateful Woman.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered terribly with a female weakness and had backache, bearing down pains and pains in lower parts. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly and used the Sanative Wash and now I have no more troubles that way."—Mrs. AL. HERZOG, 5722 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

INDIANA WOMEN DOING BIG WORK

Federation of Clubs Seeking to Promote Culture.

LIBRARY EXTENSION ONE LINE

No Department of the Federation's Work Is More Timely or Far-Reaching in Its Influence Than That Undertaken by the Library Extension Committee—An Effort Is Being Made to Secure the Extension of Library Privileges to Every Township in the State.

Winona Lake, Ind., March 12.—The Indiana Federation of Clubs is doing splendid work along many lines in the promotion of culture in Indiana. Its various standing committees are working upon lines which cover art, literature, civics, education, the preservation of forests and waterways, health, household economics and food sanitation, industrial and child labor, needed legislation, music, school suffrage, library extension and many other needs where woman's influence and efforts do effective service. No department of the federation's work is more timely or far-reaching in its influence than that undertaken by the library extension committee. This committee has for its purpose the organization of public libraries in the cities and larger towns, and the establishing of reading and rest rooms in towns not yet ready for public libraries. It also endeavors to enlist the support of the women of rural districts in arousing interest in the fact that a library is as much a part of the educational system of a community as the public school. It urges the extension of library privileges to whole townships, and helps to create more demands for the traveling libraries sent out by the state library commission and for the use of individual books sent out by the state library.

In order to best accomplish its mission, it asks the earnest support and co-operation of the resident clubs throughout the state in carrying out the splendid work being done by the state library commission in its loan of good literature.

A fact not generally understood is that the library commission sends out traveling libraries to any community where five or more citizens will fill out an application blank and guarantee the safe return of the books. These traveling libraries consist of miscellaneous collections of forty volumes each; and of collections upon special subjects, ranging from fourteen to eighteen volumes. There is no expense attached to the use of the books save that of transportation, which is nominal. The books may be retained for ninety days, subject to a renewal of ninety days.

The state library also lends books to responsible persons through the public libraries in city or town, where libraries exist; or, where there is no public library, it sends the book direct to the individual, where the borrower furnishes satisfactory guarantee for the safe return of the book. Any club in Indiana may register with the state library and enjoy the privilege of borrowing books. The only expense is that of postage. The opportunity to get books from these two state departments should be enjoyed by thousands of the citizens of Indiana.

THREATENED STRIKE MAY YET BE AVERTED

Uncle Sam's Mediators Going to Take a Hand.

Chicago, March 16.—In settlement of their dispute with the railroads, a conference committee of locomotive firemen and enginemen agreed to accept the offices of Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and United States Labor Commissioner Neil. This means that the strike, threatened unless certain demands are granted, will be postponed anyway until after the arrival in Chicago of the mediators.

W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and his committee of forty-three, representing as many locals, stated that the federal officers had been requested by the roads to act as mediators. The vote agreeing to accept their offices followed.

"Our men have accepted the offices of Messrs. Knapp and Neill," said Carter. "We, however, are not satisfied and are not disposed to waive any rights or sacrifice any time in this matter, and will so advise the managers and the federal officials. The men are disposed to be dissatisfied. We absolutely refuse to go to Washington in settlement of this dispute. The federal arbitrators must come to us. We will advise Washington and the railroad managers to this effect."

DEMOCRATS UP IN AIR

The Governor's Little Hand Grenade Started Things In Indiana.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, March 17.—All the political talk these days is on the subject of the Democratic governor's little hand grenade, which he deftly set off against the Pluto pavillion the other day when he declared boldly for a state convention nomination for the United States senate, and for a definite declaration by Democrats of the name of the man who is to oppose Senator Beveridge before the legislature next winter. Indiana Democrats are in confusion as a result of the governor's statement. The congressmen are up in the air. Thomas Taggart, at whose senatorial boom the shrewdly aimed explosives of the combative governor were hurled, has declared war, and is even now hustling to control the delegates in the state convention, even as he controls the members of the state organization from top to bottom. The organization men are silent, listening at the Taggart graphaphone. Marshall's coup may not be much of a coup after all, unless he goes further and lines up the delegates for his senatorial plan and against the domination and ambition of Mr. Taggart.

Shoulder to shoulder with Mr. Taggart in opposition against Governor Marshall's convention plan for naming the senator, stand senator Shively, who was named by the Democratic legislative caucus, by secret ballot, against home instructions, a year ago, and State Chairman Stokes, who is abjectly and always Mr. Taggart's chairman and agent in politics. Mr. Taggart is shrewd enough not to say much on his own initiative, in antagonism towards Governor Marshall's convention endorsement plan, but the voice of Stokes Jackson, and the words of the Taggart chairman may be taken as expressing the Taggart idea. Mr. Taggart merely says the governor may get his new plan through the state convention if the governor can induce the proper number of delegates to vote that way. Jackson goes further. He says that he does not believe the convention ought to make known its choice for United States senator. He does not say that it is none of the convention's business, or that the delegates have no right to express themselves on the senatorship, but he suggest that a better campaign can be made if all the candidates for the senatorship are continued actively in the race, each one putting forth his best efforts for general party success.

Mr. Jackson, knowing what he does of the last Democratic state campaign, and knowing, as he does, that Thomas Taggart was largely helpful in obtaining the $141,000 or more that went into the fight for Marshall and the Democratic legislature, is anxious to keep Mr. Taggart and certain of his friends interested in the cause of the Democratic party up to the last day of the campaign. The state chairman of the Democrats is in a position to see the whole Democratic works go by the board, if, through any unforseen mischance such as Governor Marshall's referendum scheme, Mr. Taggart is eliminated or emasculated, politically. It has become a pretty well fixed idea in Democratic organization politics in Indiana, that little can be done without Taggart and his group of slush-peddlers. Mr. Jackson, it appears, would be at a loss in making a state campaign without Mr. Tagart's help and active interest. To eliminate Mr. Taggart from the senatorial race by downing him at the state convention, and by substituting a less forceful fryer of the fat, would appear as a calamity in the eyes of Chairman Stokes Jackson, who likes the sound of frying and the odor of bacon.

Just to show how absolutely the Democratic organization in Indiana, as now made up depends on Thomas Taggart and his moneyed associates, the Taggart people tell a little yarn of the last state campaign. They say that at one stage of the fight the Democratic state committee found itself $6,000 in debt, and with just enough money to pay out, but with nothing more to forward the campaign on. Things had stopped. A caucus was called hurriedly, and a canvass of pocketbooks and bankbooks showed that a money famine had hit the campaign in a vital spot. Advice was generously given, but cash was not forthcoming. Mr. Taggart was called by long distance telephone, at French Lick. The case was stated to him. He shot back a proposition which was excepted. He would guarantee the debts. The committee could go ahead and use the money it had on hand for committee purposes, and he would raise the other moneys quickly. He took a special train, swept into Indianapolis, took up the bills of the committee, and the campaign went ahead. There was but one condition, and that was, that the Democratic state candidates repay Mr. Taggart, by assessment, if they were elected to the office. The governor, lieutenant governor and superintendent of public instruction were elected. Deponent does not say whether Mr. Taggart ever was repaid or not. He proposed, it is averred, to shoulder the loss himself if the state ticket was defeated.

It is easy to see why State Chairman Stokes Jackson, with his desire to win in 1910, and with his keen insight into the Taggart methods and resources, should stand out boldly for what Mr. Tagart desires, rather than for the things that Governor Marshall wishes to bring to pass.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

There is but one way to cure an old sore or chronic ulcer, and that is to remove the cause that produces and keeps it open. No matter where located, any sore that remains until it becomes chronic does so because of impure blood; the circulation constantly discharges its polluted matter into the place and it is impossible for nature to heal the sore. S. S. S. heals sores and ulcers by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of taint or impurity from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. No local application reaches below the infected flesh at the spot, and for this reason can have no curative effect on a sore or ulcer; while such treatment is being used alone, the germs and impurities are constantly increasing in the blood and the sore is bound to grow worse. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood and enriched and purified the circulation the place begins to take on a more healthy appearance, the different symptoms show improvement, the flesh around the ulcer gets firm, new skin and tissues are formed, and aided by pure, rich blood, nature provides a perfect and lasting cure. Under the tonic and blood-purifying effects of S.S.S., the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be greatly benefited by its use. ## Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WELL PREPARED FOR OPERATION

These Indiana Cracksmen Used Electric Tools.

LOOTED BANK AT VAN BUREN

Obtaining the Current From Wires Strung From the Outside, Professionals Employ Electric Drills to Open the Vault and the Strongbox of the Bank of Van Buren—$1,500 in Gold and Certain Valuable Papers Were Taken—So Carefully Did the Yeggs Work That They Left No Clue to Their Identity.

Marion, Ind., March 17.—Professional cracksmen robbed the Van Buren bank, owned by Howard Brothers, at Van Buren, and escaped with $1,500 in gold. Entrance to the building was gained through a rear window, and by use of electric power obtained from wires strung to the door of the vault, a drill was operated and a hole bored at the side of the time lock. A charge of nitroglycerin then forced the steel door. Inside was a chest supposed to be burglar proof, but its lock was treated the same as that of the vault, and after forcing one door of the chest the gold was taken.

Another door of the strong box protected several thousand dollars in currency, but this was unmolested by the thieves. John J. Howard, president of the bank, said that the bank is fully protected against loss by burglar insurance.

Rumors that the sum taken from the bank exceeded $1,500 were denied by the bank's president, who admitted that some notes and valuable papers were taken, but their number or value could not be estimated by Mr. Howard.

The Van Buren postoffice has been robbed three times in as many years of large sums of money, but this is the first time the bank has been entered. There is no clue to the robbers.

READ UP FOR IT

Enroute to Chicago the President Studied a History of Ireland.

Chicago, March 17.—President Taft reached this city early this morning on his private car Olympia. The trip from Washington was uneventful and Mr. Taft spent most of the time reading and preparing the two set speeches which he is to deliver here today.

The president read a history of Ireland and a life of St. Patrick, and when he finished he felt that he would be able to stand on a bit of the ould sod, which has been imported from Ireland for the occasion, swing a blackthorn and talk feelingly to the Irish Fellowship club.

The city has put on its gala attire, the proclamation issued by Mayor Busse calling upon citizens to unite in decorating the city in honor of the distinguished visitor being generally observed.

LET THEM GO

Women Charged With Robbing Deacon Van Norden Released From Bond.

New York, March 17.—Bessie Roberts and May Williams, the two tenderloin women who were charged by Warner M. VanNorden, former president of the VanNorden Trust company, of robbing him of $28,000 in Thirty-third street near the Waldorf, shortly after midnight on the morning of Jan. 20, have been discharged from the $30,000 bail bond in each case on their own recognizance, on a showing that VanNorden is not expected to return to this country from Europe for several months.

ENORMOUS PROFITS

United States Steel Corporation Did Great Business Last Year.

New York, March 17.—The report of the United States Steel corporation for 1909 shows the largest surplus and working capital in the history of the company. The surplus is $151,354,528 after deduction of dividends of $25,259,677 on preferred stock and $20,332,100 common, and after payment of $29,247,850 of the sinking fund and the appropriation of $18,200,000 for betterments, new construction and reserve for mining royalties.

May Seek to Enjoin State.

Hammond, Ind., March 17.—It is reported here that the Dearborn park poolroom combine will resume gambling as a result of the verdict in the French Lick hotel case. The Dearborn park syndicate may ask for an injunction to prevent Governor Marshall interfering with the wire service given poolroom patrons.

It Was a Mistrial.

Indianapolis, March 17.—Inability to agree was reported by the jury in the case of Oliver P. Ensley, former county treasurer, charged with embezzlement. Judge Pritchard dismissed the jurors and the case will have to be tried again or dropped by the prosecutor. It is understood the jurors stood ten to two for conviction.

TIME IS THE TEST.

The Testimony of Seymour People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Seymour people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

William P. Zickler, 521 South Poplar St., Seymour Ind., says: "I suffered from a pain in my hips and loins, extending at times into my shoulders. The kidney secretions were also irregular in passage and caused me much annoyance. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Milhouse's Drug Store and through their use, I was cured." (Statement given in 1899.)

On Oct. 11, 1906, Mr. Zickler confirmed the above statement saying: "Seven years have passed since I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I have not been bothered with kidney trouble. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break downs. You can't overtax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters, the matchless tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know it's matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. It's positively guaranteed by Andrews-Schwenk Drng Co.

KHARTOUM'S NATIVES HAVING GREAT TIME

"The King of America" Royally Received In the Soudan.

Khartoum, March 17.—The ancient city of Omdurman, the former dervish capital, with a population of nearly treble that of Khartoum, was visited by the "King of America," as the natives here call Col. Roosevelt. When the party landed the shieks were introduced, salaaming with reverent gravity.

Passing through the market amid delirious enthusiasm on the part of the welcomers, the Roosevelts reached a small cart that had been prepared to carry them to see the sights of the city. They were all aching from the previous day's unwonted shaking and bumping on camelback and were content to forego renewed practice. Entering the cart, they started on their tour, preceded by an escort of scarlet-backed police on camels, and followed by a large company mounted on horses and donkeys. A deafening noise greeted them everywhere. The natives do not see a "King of America" often and they threw themselves with barbaric enthusiasm into the work of giving him a fitting reception. One marveled at the enormous accumulation of drums Omdurman must hold. Every street was filled with the hollow rattle as the grinning blacks thumped the instruments. It was a novel experience which the visitors seemed to genuinely enjoy. The brilliant sunshine and the barbaric costumes of the people made a gay scene.

During the tour Slatin Pasha explained the organization and life in Omdurman during the khalifa's rule. He pointed out the alterations under British control, and detailed what was being done to civilize the people. Among other places visited was the old dervish arsenal on the great square, where the Mohammedan population gathered for prayer five times daily; the khalifa's house, and other historical points. On arriving at the parade ground the party found regiments of Soudanese drawn for inspection. They made an imposing show in their khaki uniforms and tarbushes, with yellow cockades. A native band played a native march, and the women of the regiment lined up on one side of the parade ground lu-luing vigorously.

The party then went to the bazaars, where Mrs. Roosevelt and Ethel became engrossed in the many native wares, some of which were quaint and others highly artistic and beautiful. They spent most of their time at silversmiths, from whom they bought numerous specimens of local craftsmanship.

Improvements.

Rol Westmeier is making some improvements on of his E. Second street residences.

The glass front at the Rustic theatre on W. Second street has been removed which greatly improves the appearance as a theatre entrance.

$4.00 shoes $2.75 at the Fair.

New Line.

The Indianapolis, Columbus & Southern Traction company has begun the work of stringing an additional telephone line from Indianapolis to Seymour. When this line is completed the company will have two lines throughout the entire length of this road.

At present the company dispatches its cars and also sends "commercial" messages over the one telephone line and if there is a break in the line the work of car dispatching is tied up until repairs can be made. When the additional line is completed one line will be used exclusively for train dispatching, while the other will be used for the transaction of the business of the company between stations. If one line happens to break the other may be relied upon for both dispatching and commercial work in an emergency. —Columbus Republican.

$10.00 suits $6.50 at the Fair store, corner Second street and Indianapolis avenue. m31d&w

U R next at Berdon's barber shop.

Call To Republicans.

Pursuant to the call of the republican state chairman the republicans of Jackson county will meet in their respective townships on Saturday, March 26 at 1:30 p. m., except Jackson township which will meet at the city building at 7:30 p. m., to elect delegates to the republican state convention which meets in Indianapolis on Tuesday, April 5, 1910. Jackson county is entitled to thirteen delegates and thirteen alternates, apportioned to the several townships as follows:

Brownstown township, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Place of meeting Brownstown.

Carr township, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Meet at Medora.

Driftwood, 1 delegate. Meet at Vallonia.

Grassyfork, 1 alternate delegate. Meet at Tampico.

Hamilton, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Meet at Cortland.

Jackson, 5 delegates, and 5 alternates. Meet at Seymour.

Owen, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Meet at Clearspring.

Redding, 1 delegate. Meet at Rockford.

Saltcreek, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Place of meeting Freetown.

Vernon, 1 delegate and 1 alternate. Meet at Crothersville.

Washington, 1 alternate delegate. Meet at Dudleytown.

The precinct committeeman in each township will look after a place of meeting. Every republican in the county is urged to attend his township meeting.

W. P. MASTERS, Chairman.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by all druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

"CHANTECLER" CARTOONS.

Rostand and His New Play Provide Good Material For the Artists.

Undoubtedly the most talked of drama today in Europe if not in the world is "Chantecler," by Edmond Rostand, the French playwright, and the innate love of the Parisians for caricature has at once prompted a travesty of the play. The characters, dressed as they are as roosters, pheasants, doves, dogs and other birds and animals usually seen in a barnyard, furnish the best of material for this purpose for the pens of the cartoonists, and their work is creating much amusement.

The author, too, has not been overlooked in this matter, and one of the most interesting of the many cartoons drawn of him is shown below his portrait here. It is by the famous French caricaturist "Sem," whose work is attracting attention all over the world, and is considered one of his most striking pictures. The statement that he drew it in just three minutes by the watch may be readily believed when one studies the picture, although only a master hand, of course, could bring out the effect he has in the few lines used.

An amusing part of the portrait is the manner in which the artist has made the chin also serve as the letter "S" in his signature, a time saver that not many would have thought of.

FORUCCIO BUSONI.

How the Great Pianist Quickly Won Success In This Country.

Foruccio Busoni, who is Italian by name and German by right of ancestry, has about succeeded in convincing the American musical public that he is the chief living exponent of that brilliant school of piano playing whose founder was the Abbe Liszt. When he arrived in this country at the beginning of the present season he was practically unknown save to a few who had heard him abroad and had brought back wonderful accounts of his facility as a piano virtuoso. Some of these stories were so exalted that they were regarded as fabulous.

It did not take long for the subject of these appreciative comments to show that he had not been overestimated. At his first appearance in New York he faced an audience markedly unsympathetic and disposed to resent his attempt to enroll himself in the company of long established favorites. As he made his way to the piano with the awkwardness of a new arrival there was little in his personal appearance to suggest the great artist. He showed a figure inclined to corpulency and hands that were actually pudgy. When he turned his face to the audience, however, its beauty and intelligence brought him a little wave of welcome.

Before he had played a dozen measures the spell of his genius began to work. At the close of the first number on the program there was not even a whisper. The audience was fairly stunned into silence by the brilliancy of the performance of the man whom it had looked upon so critically. His mastery of the intricacies of the pianoforte was a revelation to his listeners. When his audience had recovered its breath Busoni had made his exit, all uncertain as to the verdict, but the tumult of applause which followed assured him that he had won the victory.

MILLIONS OF LIVES LOST

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption. Many Unnecessary Deaths From This Disease.

If people could only understand that systemic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

Catarrh is caused by a general diseased state of the system which leads commonly to annoying and perhaps serious local conditions, which may prove a fertile breeding ground for germs of consumption. External remedies give but temporary ease.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucu-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1 00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Seymour only at our store,—The Rexall Store. The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

Forty Hours Devotion.

The forty hours devotion which has been in progress at the St. Ambrose Catholic church for the past three days, closed Thursday evening. Father Conrad was assisted in the meetings by priests from other points from out of the city. The meetings were well attended and at some of the sessions the house was crowded. A good strong choir assisted in the music and some of the addresses by the various speakers, including the one of last evening, were excellent and contained many good suggestions for thought and meditation. A few others outside of the members of the Catholic church attended various sessions and were favorably impressed with the services.

Shout Breaks a Glass.

Every one knows that windows will rattle when a loud noise is made in a room, but very few persons knew that a glass can be broken by shouting into it. Any ordinary glass which has a clear tone will do for this trick, and the exact nature of its tone can readily be ascertained by passing a moistened finger around its rim. This point being settled, the performer should hold the glass in front of his mouth and shout into it in a tone about an octave higher than that of the glass. The result will be that the glass will break immediately and for the reason that it will not have strength enough to resist the force exerted against it by the waves of air. The thinner the glass is the more easily it will be broken.

Now They Only Nod When They Pass.

Two members of the Occultism club met at a social function recently. They were both trying to be elected to office in the club, and there was much rivalry between them.

"The swami tells me," said No. 1 sweetly, "that you were a milkmaid in your last incarnation. He knew you, it seems. Isn't it wonderful what changes are wrought?"

"It is, indeed," remarked the other blandly. "He knew you also, you know, my dear, in that other condition."

"And what was I?" asked No. 1, startled out of all caution.

"You were my cow, dear," was the reply, and the two women separated almost rudely.—Chicago Tribune.

Yielding

A Philadelphia ... declaring that insanity ... frequently productive of sound logic tempered by wit told the story of a patient he once met in an asylum.

He came across this patient while strolling through the ground and, stopping, spoke to him. After a brief conversation the physician said:

"Why are you here?"

"Simply a difference of opinion," replied the patient. "I said all men were mad, and all men said I was mad, and the majority won."—Lippincott's.

Preparing Storage Room.

Leroy Miller has had a force of men employed for several days enlarging the basement under his store on Second street. The basement was formerly forty feet but is now being enlarged to ninety feet. The room will be used almost entirely for the storage of wall paper. For some time Mr. Miller has been using a room on the second floor for storing his extra stock but this will now be removed to the basement. The new location will be an ideal one for the storage of wall paper and will keep it in fine condition. The room will also be more convenient to reach than the one in use at present. Mr. Miller does an extensive business in the wall paper line both here and in other towns near here. A very large supply of paper both in quantity and variety is always kept in stock.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

John Disney, section foreman on the Pennsylvania line, and his men have built a new platform and crossing today for the Adams Express Company in front of their office, near Pennsylvania passenger station.

The Southern Indiana section gang has been at work for several days repairing the siding which was torn up in the accident which occurred here recently.

William Carothers, one of the B. & O., section men, who has been off duty for the past few days on account of sickness, returned this morning from a visit at Brownstown.

Held by Etiquette.

When Dom Pedro, then emperor of Brazil, was entertained at the White House he had been told by a confused senator that it would be expected that he, the emperor, should be the last of the guests to depart.

The president's wife, however, informed her other guests that they would be expected to follow, not precede, the royal party in leaving the house.

The result was that no one dared to go for fear of a breach of etiquette, but at 3 o'clock in the morning a tired woman pretended illness, and the deadlock was broken.

Great is etiquette, but common sense is sometimes allowable.

McTurnan to Speak Here.

Lawrence McTurnan has been secured as the speaker for the next Men's Union Metting which will be held at First M. E. church, Sunday afternoon, March 27. The committee who arranged for the speaker wrote Mr. McTurnan some time ago, asking him to address the meeting on that date, but as he was away from home for several days, no reply was received until Thursday.

The committee feel that they have been very fortunate in securing Mr. McTurnan for this meeting as he is an interesting and able speaker. For a number of years he was deputy in the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and is recognized as one of the leading educators in Indiana. Since he has retired from the State Superintendent's office he has delivered a large number of addresses and is a popular speaker. The subject of his address has not yet been announced but will be published before the time of the meeting.

Killed at Chattanooga.

The funeral of Harvey Patrick, who was injured in Chattanooga, Tenn., last Saturday, occurred at Crothersville Thursday. Patrick formerly lived in Crothersville, but had been employed for a short time in a coffin factory in Chattanooga. He was injured while at work by being struck with a piece of wood. He lived but a few hours affer the accident. He was a member of the K. of P., lodge at Crothersville. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and one child.

Rev. Samuel Ridlen, of near Little York, is in the city the guest of his daughter, Mrs. George Collins, and brother, T. R. Ridlen. He came here late Saturday evening and returned to Crothersville Wednesday to attend the funeral of Harvey Patrick, a brother K. of P., who was killed in an accident in a coffin factory at Chattanooga, Tenn., last Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Ridlen was a charter member of the K. of P. lodge at Crothersville.

County S. S. Convention.

The Jackson County Sunday School Convention met with the Reddington Christian Church Thursday evening. There was a large attendance and unusually good interest.

After the opening song service and prayer by Rev. F. M. Huckleberry of Seymour, C. H. Overman, of Crothersville, spoke on "Conditions of Township Sunday Schools and What we Need.".

The principal address was made by George N. Burnie, of Indianapolis, on the subject, "Opportunity." He emphasized Teacher Training as the great opportunity in the Sunday School today.

Mr. Burnie spoke twice at the sessions of the convention this morning and this afternoon. Quite a number of Sunday School workers went out on the morning cars today to attend the sessions. This evening the address will be made by Rev. Jas. Omelvena on the subject "Life's Chief Business." Several will probably go out for the evening meeting.

Surprised W. R. C.

Mrs. James Stratton, Mrs. Allen Barnes and Mrs. Alonzo Newby surprised the members of the Woman's Relief Corps Thursday afternoon and entertained them with a lunch following the regular business session of the organization. Sandwiches, coffee, pickles, cake and fruit were served and very much enjoyed. The kindness of the hostess was very much appreciated.

100,000 in 1910

We want that many regular subscribers to our paper. In 1909 we had a daily circulation of 90,246, therefore, we need only 9,754 new readers to reach the mark.

THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS

The circulation of The Indianapolis News is unique in two particulars. The paper is delivered directly into the homes of more than 94 per cent. of its subscribers; and the circulation, per capita of the population of the city in which it is printed is greater than that of any other paper in the country.

The Indianapolis News, established in 1869, was the first high class two-cent evening paper in the west. It now publishes six regular editions, of from sixteen to twenty-eight pages daily; has the Associated press and United Press services; 700 special correspondents, covering the news of the state and country; a modern art equipment, and a large and capable editorial staff. Its mechanical equipment, complete in every way, includes twenty-two linotype machines, two sextuples and two double-deck quintuple color presses, with a total output of 120,000 twelve page papers per hour.

THERE'S A REASON!

In twelve years The News doubled it's circulation; there must be a reason for it, and that reason is given in a few words:

It's the leading newspaper in Indiana.
It's the biggest and best.
It's independent.
It's clean and instructive.

If you are not a reader, give your order to our agent in your town, he will deliver it to your home, office, work-shop or store.

HOUSE LEADERS GET A SETBACK

Insurgents Score Triple Victory Over Uncle Joe.

CRUMPACKER RIDDEN DOWN

Indiana Representative's Motion Started Things Going and House Rules Committee Was Overwhelmed by the Alliance of Insurgents and Democrats — Uncle Joe Expressed His Satisfaction, Declaring That This Gave the Best of Evidence That the House Was Not Ruled by an Oligarchy, as So Often Charged.

Washington, March 17.—The humiliation of having one of his decisions from the chair overruled by a combination of insurgent Republicans, near-insurgents and Democrats is the latest experience of Speaker Cannon. A dent was made in the house organization, but Uncle Joe says he is content. The fact that he was overruled, he announced, was the best of evidence that instead of the house being in the control of one man, it is really dominated by the majority, as he has always contended.

The insurgents ran amuck and knocked out an appropriation for the maintenance of Uncle Joe Cannon's and Vice President Sherman's government automobiles. They did that to "even up" with Uncle Joe, and their later rally was prompted by the same motive.

The second demonstration against the house organization came as a surprise to the leaders. They had hardly recovered from the previous rout. The measure attacked was a joint resolution reported by Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, chairman of the committee on census, providing for the segregation of the Slavonic nationalities in the coming census enumeration. When Chairman Crumpacker called up this resolution Representative Fitzgerald of New York made the point that under the rules Wednesday of each week is set aside for the consideration of bills on the house and union calendars, and no measure could replace this order of business except by a two-thirds vote of the house. Mr. Crumpacker replied that the resolution had the right of way under a privilege conferred by the constitution which transcended the rules of the house.

The speaker upheld Mr. Crumpacker's contention, whereupon Mr. Fitzgerald appealed from the decision of the chair. In the course of the debate Mr. Crumpacker received word that while he undoubtedly had all the argument on his side, a canvass disclosed that he did not have the votes. Then Mr. Crumpacker tried to beat a retreat by moving that the bill be laid aside for the day. The leaders rallied their forces, but the insurgents and the Democrats were too much for them and the Crumpacker motion was lost by a vote of 153 to 121, thirty-eight Republicans siding with the minority.

The motion of Mr. Fitzgerald (Democrat) appealing from the decision of the speaker was then taken up. Before the motion was put Mr. Cannon made an address in which he outlined the issue. He had no pride of opinion in his ruling, he said. The pending resolution was clearly entitled to the constitutional privilege. No rule of the house empowered the speaker to overlook that fact. Speaker Cannon added that it would gratify him if he were overruled, as it would be notice to the country that the house was controlled by a majority, and not by an oligarchy, as claimed. Uncle Joe had his wish. His ruling was overturned by a vote of 163 to 111, on this occasion 42 Republicans joining with their Democratic brethren.

ATE HUMAN FLESH

Evidences of Cannibalism Disclosed on Lonely Trail in Canada.

Ottawa, March 17.—The mystery surrounding a tragedy this winter in the wilderness that lies between Cobalt and the Porcupine gold fields, has not been cleared up, according to L. O. Armstrong of the Canadian Pacific railroad, who has just returned from a trip to the north.

A man's body was found badly mutilated, there being evidence that a knife had been used and part of the flesh cut away. The belief all along has been that a party of two or three, crazed for lack of food, had been responsible for the mutilation. Armstrong says: "So far as I could gather there is not the slightest doubt that cannibalism did occur; it is a matter of common talk among the people in the north country. I did not come across anyone who saw the mutilated corpse, but there were plenty who knew about it, and who said that actual photos were taken of the remains.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 20, 1910

A Paralytic Forgiven and Healed. Lesson:—Matthew 9: 1-13.

GOLDEN TEXT:—The Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins. Mathew 9: 6.

In Luke viii, 40, we read that when Jesus returned from Gadara the people gladly received Him, for they were all waiting for Him. In Mark ii, 1, 2, we read that many were gathered together, filling the house and leaving no room even about the door, and He preached the word unto them. In Luke v, 17, we read that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law present from every town in Galilee and also from Judea and Jerusalem and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

Then came four men, bringing on a bed a palsied friend of theirs, and when they could not get even near the door because of the crowd they carried him to the roof, made an opening and let him down through the tiling, with his couch, into the midst before Jesus. Compare the records in Mark ii and Luke v with our lesson in Matthew, and in each you hear Jesus saying to the sick man, "Thy sins are forgiven thee." Matthew adds that He said, "Son, be of good cheer." In Matt. ix, 22, He said to a sick woman, "Daughter, be of good comfort." Remember also His "Be of good cheer" of Matt. xiv, 27; John xvi, 33, and Acts xxiii, 11. It is the same word in each case, just one word, used only by our Lord and on these five different occasions. It is used once by the people to the blind man in Mark x, 49. The word used by Paul in Acts xxvii, 22, 25, is a different word, but one of great encouragement. There can be no lasting comfort or good cheer apart from the forgiveness of sins. Jesus did not treat symtoms, as many physicians do, but went at once to the root of the difficulty. The four men brought their friend that he might be cured of his palsy, but Jesus began by forgiving his sins. He saw the faith of those who brought him and determined to heal him, but He began by cleansing his soul. He once said to Simon Peter, "If I wash thee not thou hast no part with Me" (John xiii, 8), and that is truly a saying of great import. If we are cleansed from our sins we shall in due time have perfectly whole bodies; so, having saved this man, He also gave him a healed body, and he arose and departed to his house. The four earnest men who brought their palsied friend to Christ to be healed of his disease were quite sure that if they could get him to Jesus they would not need to carry him away, and they were not disappointed.

The question of the Pharisees, "Who is this?" (Luke v, 21) repeated in Luke vii, 49; Matt xxi, 10, carries us back to Isa. lxiii, 1; Jer. xxx, 21. Moses said, "Who am I?" (Ex. iii, 11) but the oft pertinent question is, "Who is He?" "Whom say ye that I am?" It is a blessed thing for all who know that He is the Son of Man who hath power on earth to forgive sins and that He has forgiven them. Luke says that Jesus perceived the thoughts of these men, or, as it is in our lesson, "Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?" We do well to remember the words of Ezek. xi, 5, "I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them."

As Jesus went forth He saw a publican named Levi or Matthew sitting at the receipt of custom, and, having said to him, "Follow me," he left all, rose up and followed Him. Compare verse 9 and Luke v. 27, 28. Matthew speaks only of Jesus sitting at meat in the house, but Luke tells us that this was a great feast which Levi made for Jesus in his own house and that a great company of publicans and others sat down with them. Jesus calls whom he pleases (Mark iii, 13). The Father gives unto Him whom He will (John vi, 37; xvii, 2), and yet there are none among those who hear who may not come if they will (John iii, 16; Rev. xxii, 17). The fault finding, self righteous scribes and Pharisees are always on hand with their murmurings, but they said a fine thing one day when they said, "This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them" (Luke xv, 2). They were the destructive critics of their day, and those of our day would do well to lay to heart some things that Jesus said to them and of them. They considered themselves whole and righteous and had no use for such as Jesus, and He told them plainly that He had not come to call such as they, but that they had better go and learn the meaning of these words: "I will have mercy and not sacrifice." Christ Jesus came not to patch up an old and ruined nature nor to attempt to put new wine, the wine of the kingdom, into the old bottles of the carnal mind, but He came to give a new nature to penitent sinners and to make them new creatures from within outward. He came to have mercy upon the lost and to give Himself and His righteousness to those who receive Him. He does not ask anything from us until He has first given Himself to us. God gave His Son; the Son gave Himself; the Spirit also is given. The gift of God is eternal life. He gives the bread of life, the water of life, the word of life. Nothing in the matter of salvation can be obtained by money or merit on the part of human beings, but must be accepted as the free gift of Almighty God.

A Fashion Chat on Misses' Dancing Frocks.

Furnished by Pictorial Review
853 Broadway, New York City.

There is a world of quaint prettiness and demure charm about some of the dancing frocks for young girls. As a matter of fact, some of the details of this season's modish evening gowns are far more suited to youthful wearers than to those more mature. The absurd little overskirts, the draperies and the sashes, the rosettes and the diminutive ruches and shirrings are seen at their best on the delightful frocks designed for the dances of the young people.

Even the softly braided or swirled coiffures are distinctly girlish and call for no further ornamentation than the big shell pins thrust in on each side while the many charming accessories, the scarfs and the fans, have an old time look about them that is especially appealing when associated with youth.

Not only are the models of the season easily adapted to the demand of the young girl but the materials and trimmings seem made for her sole delight. The fabrics that have been received with the greatest favor are the supple ones, capable of graceful draping, while some of the most costly and effective trimmings are the dainty handmade floral garlands which are the ideal decoration for the young girl's dancing frock of tulle and mousseline.

PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN NO. 3392 is a very simple little frock as shown in the illustration, but it can be elaborated according to the taste of the maker. Simplicity, however, is the key-note of good taste and the charm about the frocks illustrated on this page is due to this fact.

This design comes in sizes 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 14 requires 5½ yards of 48-inch material. The costume can be made with either high or low neck and sleeves in two styles.

Ribbons veiled by airy material and peeping forth beneath lace, a graceful tunic or flounce tied in a smart bow in front, behind or at the side are noticeable features of the new evening frock trimmings.

Decolletages and sleeves are edged with rose garlands. The skirts show two or three rows of rose sprays interrupted by airy lace flounces. Rose bouquets ornament the loops and belts and fichus.

For instance, PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 2960 can have garlands of roses sewn in the center of the ruchings on the waist, sleeves and skirt and a little bouquet at the waist will add to its effectiveness.

This dress has a high or low neck, long or short sleeves and a girdle terminating in sash ends. It comes in sizes 12, 14 and 16 years. A medium size requires 5⅛ yards of 40-inch material.

Self-trimming is an invariable and important feature of the tulle frock. The material lends itself delightfully to manipulation in little ruches, frills, plaitings and shirrings, for the gathered, puffed and draped skirts and tunics as well as for the nice corsages and fichus. On some very pretty models there is practically no other decoration than self trimming and an attractive girdle.

PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3397 is an excellent example of what is meant in the above paragraph. It has a high or low neck and elbow sleeves. It can be had in sizes 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 14 requires 5¾ yards of 36-inch material, with 5½ yards of 27-inch material for the seven-gored foundation.

Patterns for above designs including cutting and construction guides are 15 cents each number.

The Comet That Came Back

WE have heard a good deal of late from the astronomers about that wonderful comet named after old Professor Halley, but the time has now arrived when we can see for ourselves just what this much talked of celestial visitor looks like, and all the world is hunting up the family telescope to better view the free show. The comet is scheduled to show itself to the naked eye soon after April 1, and there will be plenty of opportunity for every one to see it. It will appear in the morning sky just before sunrise, and after it crosses the sun it may be observed in the evening sky after sunset. It is predicted that the comet's tail when it is passing between us and the sun will probably sweep the earth. The effect will be a startling display of luminous vapors in our atmosphere.

The scientists say there need be no alarm over the passage of the earth through the comet. The encounter, in fact, is more likely to damage the visitor, despite its enormous proportions, than the earth. They instance the collision of Lexall's comet with Jupiter, which hurled the former from its course and sent it hurling through space. It has never returned. Jupiter did not even hesitate in his course.

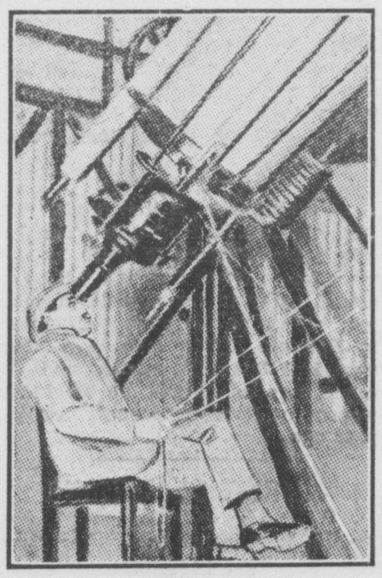

HOW HALLEY'S COMET LOOKED ON ITS LAST VISIT.

A faint red haze along the western horizon at sunset on May 18 will be the only perceptible evidence the immense train of gas will give that it temporarily envelops the earth.

Halley's comet is of peculiar interest, due to the fact that Halley, the second astronomer royal of England, was the first man to prove definitely by means of it that these objects can go on long jouneys and return to the sun. He made his prediction several centuries ago, and they were fulfilled in 1750 and in 1835. The comet also possesses great historical interest. In 1456 it is supposed that it fought on the side of the Turks. In 1066, when William the Conqueror landed in England, it shone in the sky. It is believed to have been present at the destruction of Jerusalem, and it has been traced by the Chinese records six centuries further.

It is interesting to note that a French scientist attributes the Paris floods to the influence of the returning comet. Astronomers have not yet determined definitely the composition either of a comet or of its tail. It is known that they are associated with meteor streams. It is commonly believed that a comet is made up of a cluster of meteorites passing together through space incoherent, each component acting as an independent tiny planet. When this mass is still many millions of miles from the sun it puts forth a shining tail directed away from the sun. This tail stretches at times over a hundred million miles in one direction.

The length of our celestial visitor will appear forty times the diameter of the moon. It will reach its perihelion, or nearest distance to the sun, on April 20 and will start at once on its journey of three-quarters of a century beyond the limits of the planetary system. On the day its tail is brushed across the face of the earth its nucleus will be 12,500,000 miles away.

On nearing the sun the comet will exhibit the unexplained phenomenon called "solar repulsion." As if blown by a cosmic breeze, the tail will whirl away from the sun in a circle of millions of miles. The nucleus itself will be 56,000,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach. As the comet recedes from the sun the "beard" will gradually swing in behind the nucleus again to its usual trailing position. On its return trip from the sun the comet will pay its visit to the earth.

OBITUARY.

Walter Waskom, who died at Riverside Cal., Feb. 28, 1910, was born in Grassy Fork township, was raised here and graduated in the Tampico common schools. A few years ago he went to California and sought employment, but his health gradually failed him and he was confined to his room with lung trouble. John Waskom, his cousin, who was in the west, heard of his illness, went to his bedside and was a constant attendant of him until his death, and being conscious of the fact he was soon to die, he sought peace with God and made the noble confession to Bro. G. M. Anderson of that place. And his dying request was "John, tell father, stepmother, relatives and friends, I will meet you all at the Pearly Gate with glad hands to receive you." He was a son of Michael and Nancy Waskom and was the last of eight children who together with their mother proceeded him to the grave. The remains were brought here to his father's where the funeral was conducted Mar. 8, by Elds. G. M. Shutts and Joseph Lester, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Waskom cemetery.

CANNON'S BACK TO THE WALL

House Rules Hang In the Balance.

SPEAKER THREATENED

Mr. Norris Precipitates Long Expected Battle.

NEW RULES ARE DEMANDED

Speaker Declined to Put Motion and Deadlock Followed.

Washington, March 18.—The Republican organization of the house is engaged in a fight for its existence. The struggle, which continued throughout one of the most trying days and nights that have ever been witnessed in the house, is still in progress. Neither the combination of insurgent Republicans and Democrats who precipitated the contest, nor the Cannon organization is in control, and a state of chaos exists. The situation is dramatic. Caught off his guard by Representative Norris of Nebraska, one of the insurgent leaders, Speaker Cannon entertained a motion that resulted in precipitating a rough and tumble fight over the rules.

Seldom in the history of the house has there been witnessed such exciting incidents as marked the succeeding proceedings. The insurgents and Democrats, flushed with their victories attained Wednesday, went into the fray with confidence, and after rebuking the speaker, they returned to the attack by unexpectedly throwing into the house a resolution proposing the creation of a new committee.

The innocent cause of all the excitement was Mr. Crumpacker's census resolution that kicked up so much excitement Wednesday. In passing this census resolution the house endorsed the proposition that this measure was under consideration as a matter of constitutional privilege. This principle once recognized, the insurgents took advantage of the opening. Norris led the attack. Rising in his place he addressed the speaker. He was at once recognized.

"I desire to present a resolution which is entitled to recognition under the constitutional privilege," said Mr. Norris. Speaker Cannon, unsuspecting the trap into which he was about to be led, caused the resolution to be read. It provided for a new committee on rules to be elected by the house and to go into effect at once. The fight began at once, and it will go down into the history of the house as one of the most strubborn partisan struggles ever witnessed in that body.

The Norris resolution creating a new committee on rules was patterned after one introduced in the house in the Fifty-second congress. The Democrats controlled the house then. Crisp was speaker then, and the resolution was given no consideration.

The Norris resolution provides for a committee of fifteen to be representative of the various sections, it being specifically provided that the speaker shall not be a member of the organization. If this resolution goes through it will mean the end of the present organization rule in the house.

Text of the Resolution.

"Resolved, That the rules of the house be amended as follows: The committee on rules shall consist of fifteen members, nine of whom shall be members of the majority party and six of whom shall be members of the minority party, to be selected as follows: The states of the Union shall have been divided by a committee of three elected by the house for that purpose into nine groups, each group containing as near as may be an equal number of members belonging to the majority party. The states of the Union shall likewise be divided into six groups, each group containing as near as may be an equal number of members belonging to the minority party.

"At 10:30 o'clock a month and a day following the adoption of the report of the said committee, each of said groups shall meet and select one of its number a member of the committee on the rules. The place of meeting for each of said groups shall be designated by the said committee of three in its report. Each of said groups shall report to the house the name of the member selected for membership on the committee of rules.

"The committee on rules shall select its own chairman. The speaker shall not be eligible to membership on said committee. All rules or parts thereof inconsistent with the foregoing resolution are hereby repealed.

An All-Night Struggle.

At 1 o'clock this morning the Cannon forces showed no intention of putting the Norris resolution to a vote and the insurgents were still determined not to assent to an adjournment. By actual count at 1:20 twelve representatives were asleep in their seats. Representative Crumpacker, whose census resolution started the trouble, was one of those slumbering.

At 1:30 o'clock Mr. Tawney again moved that the house take a recess until 11:30. The insurgents again insisted on a yea and nay vote and the Cannon lieutenants hustled around to wake up some of their supporters. On the roll-call this time Butler Ames of Massachusetts, a near-insurgent who had been voting with the organization all day, went over to the side of the allies, thereby causing consternation among the regulars.

At 2:30 a call of the house established the lack of a quorum and the speaker ordered the sergeant-at-arms to arrest the absentees and bring them into the house. This order meant that the house would have to remain in session at least until a quorum is obtained, and many of the insurgents prepared to take a snooze pending the results of the sergeant-at-arms's effort, nobody expecting to see a quorum present before the regular hour of convening this morning. Speaker Cannon at 2:40 was still in the chair and the insurgents were orating at each other.

FAIRBANKS BRINGS MESSAGE OF PEACE

World Tour Revealed No Cloud On Horizon.

New York, March 18.—Former Vice President of the United States Charles W. Fairbanks of Indianapolis, arrived last night on the Mauretania with a message of peace, after an absence of nearly a year on a tour around the world. Peace with Japan was the burden of his talk.

"President Roosevelt's administration," said Mr. Fairbanks, "greatly strengthened the ties of good neighborhood between us and other powers, and President Taft is understood abroad as in favor of the policy of international peace. There is therefore no evidence of any lurking fear of our absolutely good faith, and so long as that prevails there is no danger of serious collision between the United States and any other nation.

"The fact is, diplomacy will adjust any international question we are likely to have. Nothing but absolutely inconceivable blundering diplomacy can bring about a conflict between us and any of our friends beyond the Pacific or beyond the Atlantic. President Taft and Secretary Knox have the wisdom and patriotism necessary to preserve our rights in the far east, under the orderly and usual processes of diplomacy, without any peril either to our national honor or national peace.

"Those who now and then fill the air with unfounded rumors of possible trouble between us and any foreign power do not thereby advance our world-wide interest or contribute to our national prestige. There is not the slightest ground, in my opinion, for the suggestion that there is danger of war between the United States and Japan. Japan has a respect and an admiration for the United States which is genuine and undisguised. I have found such to be the feeling of that country, from the emperor and the Katasura cabinet to men in every walk of life."

THE PRESIDENT SPOKE FRANKLY

He Paid His Compliments to His Critics.

A PRETTY GOOD DAY'S WORK

During the President's Day at Chicago He Made, in All, Eight Speeches, in a Few of Which He Took Occasion to Give Some Heart-to-Heart Talks, With Particular Reference to His Newspaper Critics and His Congressional Opponents—Souvenir Hunters Got the Most of That "Bit of the Ould Sod."

Chicago, March 18.—Perhaps it was the spirit of St. Patrick's day, when heads are supposed to be broken and battered; perhaps it is because he felt that the opportunities were too good to be passed over lightly, but at any rate President Taft chose yesterday to do some of the frankest talking about men and things that he has done in many a long day. He talked frankly about the newspaper men, how they criticised him and how he intends to take it; he warmed up when he appeared before some railroad men and said what he felt about the way some congressmen have imputed wrong motives to railroad legislation he desires. Then, when it was not expected at all, he paid a high compliment to Gifford Pinchot, the deposed chief forester.

At night, after all the strenuous day was over, the president just gave the 1,250 diners at the Irish Fellowship club's banquet a friendly intimate little talk about Erin's patron saint.

The Taft smile was mingled with all the speechmaking, and although at times it grew rather dim, it always came back. The crowd was with the president from the time he hit the city early in the morning until late last night, when he left for Rochester, N. Y. It was a good-natured holiday crowd that jostled the police and yelled for Taft, and the president enjoyed it all immensely.

In all, the president made eight speeches, which is considered a pretty good "day's work" for a president, even in this city, which he declared was "typically American in its strenuosity."

He spoke to the Red Cross, the Newspaper club, the Traffic club, at a luncheon given to Chicago publishers, to the local Conservation association, to a gathering of engineers, to the Hamilton club and to the Irish society. In addition he shook hands with at least 2,000 people, at the Hamilton club, and several thousand at other places.

The first real speech of the day was at the Newspaper club. Mr. Taft evidently was primed for this occasion, for he launched out immediately into a discourse on editors and things. It was before the Traffic club that Mr. Taft had another opportunity to talk from the heart about the way some people regard his efforts to have congress amend the Hepburn law. After lunching with the publishers the president rested for a half hour and was driven to the Auditorium to address the Chicago Conservation association. Here he paid a compliment to Gifford Pinchot and twice, when he mentioned the name of Theodore Roosevelt, the 6,000 people in the Auditorium went wild. Mr. Taft liked to hear the cheers for his predecessor and said so with a smile.

"This movement," said the president, "owes its start to Theodore Roosevelt." When the crowd cheered the president said: "Do it again, you do not enjoy it any more than I do." And the crowd did.

"Theodore Roosevelt," continued Mr. Taft when the applause ceased, "was impelled to give his wonderful activity of mind and body to this movement by Gifford Pinchot." Pinchot's name was greeted with cheering second only to that which came at the mention of Colonel Roosevelt.

At the Hamilton club the president shook hands with 2,000 people. He made a brief speech, but shunned politics. Some other time, he said, after he had got the legislation he wanted, he might have something to say. Just at present the best thing to do was to keep quiet, meet the party obligations and live up to its platform.

The president did not get to stand on "the bit of ould sod," imported from Ireland for that purpose, at last night's banquet. The original bit was about five feet square, but souvenir hunters had snipped it all but about one square foot, long before banquet time.

The president told of the great men of history who boasted Irish parentage. He praised the spirit of the people, their loyalty to the old sod, their sharp wits and the beauty of their women. The president left Chicago late last night for Rochester, where he is due to arrive late this afternoon.

SHIES AT PULPIT.

G. B. Cox, Ohio's Political Boss, Asked to Preach.

DOESN'T FEEL FITTED FOR PULPIT ORATORY

George B. Cox Passes Up the Parson's Invitation.

Cincinnati, March 18.—The pulpit of the Lincoln Park Institutional Baptist church here has been placed at the disposal of George B. Cox, the political leader, by the pastor, Rev. George R. Robbins. In an announcement Dr. Robbins says that he would like very much to have Mr. Cox come and speak to his congregation and that many members of his flock have asked him to ask Mr. Cox to speak to them. He says that if Mr. Cox will but make his wishes in this respect known, he will arrange for him to talk there. He adds that he considers Mr. Cox one of the most wonderful of present day men.

The minister thinks that every pulpit which says anything about a living man should always be open to that man, so that he may speak for himself before the same congregation.

Mr. Cox says he hardly thinks he could accept this offer. "It is certainly very kind of Dr. Robbins to offer me his pulpit, but I hardly think I have anything the least interesting to say to his congregation," said Mr. Cox. "I appreciate the interest taken in me by Dr. Robbins and other ministers, and I want them always to feel this way toward me, but so far as speaking is concerned, I cannot accept his offer because I would not know what to say before his congregation."

Former Indianian Honored.

Lafayette, Ind., March 18.—The Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Lillis, member of a former Lafayette family, and brother of Mrs. Charles Murdock, the wife of the Lafayette traction magnate and banker, has been honored by Pope Pius IX., his appointment as coadjutor bishop of Kansas City having been announced from Rome. Bishop Lillis is now in charge of the Leavenworth (Kan.) diocese of the Roman Catholic church.

First Victim of New Chair.

Raleigh, N. C., March 18.—The first criminal condemned to death by electrocution in North Carolina will be executed today in the new death chair, just set up at the state penitentiary in Raleigh. The man is a negro named William Morrison, and his crime was an assault on an Indian woman of Robeson county, nearly a year ago.

BULLETS FLEW ON THE STREET

Rowdies at Bedford Shoot Up the Town.

AN INCIDENT OF THE STRIKE

Sympathizers With the Striking Quarrymen Create a Scene of Terror in Bedford When They Start to Shoot Up the Town—At One Boarding House Where Several National Cutters Make Their Home, a Number of Shots Penetrated the Dwelling—At Another Dwelling Bullet Lodged Under Pillow of Sleeping Inmate.

Bedford, Ind., March 18.—This city was the scene of another riot when rowdy sympathizers with the striking stone workers, who have been keeping residents of Bedford in fear of their lives for several months, started to shoot up the town. The reports of the firearms as they were discharged resembled a conflict on picket lines during the civil war, so say a number of old soldiers who heard the skirmish. The shooters seemed to be divided in groups, covering a large territory of the city.

At the boarding house of Mrs. Howard Taylor, where several National cutters make their home, a number of shots were fired into the house, and several shots penetrated the dwelling of Mack Henderson nearby. One bullet lodged under the pillow of the bed occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, and another shattered the headboard of the bed.

TALKING IT OVER

Railway Managers and Firemen Meet Mediators at Chicago.

Chicago, March 18.—Initial steps in the federal efforts to avert a strike of locomotive firemen on western roads have been taken by M. A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and United States Labor Commissioner Neill, who arrived in the city from Washington.

Members of the general managers' committee, headed by Chairman W. C. Nixon, went into conference with Messrs. Knapp and Neill in the Auditorium hotel. An executive session was held. It was said that the subject of the roads' refusal to arbitrate the working rules objected to by the firemen was discussed. The factional differences between the firemen's and engineer's labor organizations will prove a factor in the conference, it was declared.

The mediators met President W. S. Carter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and members of his committee, following the session with the employers.

HAD MEETING WITH JUROR

An Incident of the Ensley Trial Investigated by Prosecutor.

Indianapolis, March 18.—An incident in connection with the deliberations of the jury in the Ensley case, which resulted in a disagreement, ten of the jurors having voted for the conviction of Oliver P. Ensley and Jurors Russ R. Reading and Conrad Raab having voted for acquittal, has been related to Prosecutor Elliott R. Hooton by William G. Hartman, foreman of the jury, who says that after the jury had gone to the jury room for deliberation, Perry Hardin, bailiff of criminal court, had a meeting with Juror Reading outside of the jury room door.

The prosecutor has considered this information of enough importance to communicate it to Judge James A. Pritchard of criminal court, and will follow up the oral information with an affidavit signed by Mr. Hartman in regard to the incident.

Two Strangers Killed by Trains.

Michigan City, Ind., March 18.—A middle-aged man, whose identity has not been ascertained, was struck by an express train at a grade crossing near the Michigan Central station here while he was attempting to cross the track, and he died a few minutes later. The body of a man supposed to be that of Thomas McCarty, a traveling insurance agent, was found at the side of the Michigan Central tracks, east of the city, where he had been struck by a train.

Demands Change of Method.

Washington, March 18.—The federal government has begun suit against the Anaconda Copper Mining company to compel that company to operate its great smelting plant in such a manner as to end widespread destruction of the surrrounding national forests, resulting from the distribution of sulphur and arsenic fumes over a wide area of country.

Accidental Shot Killed Wife.

Boonville, Ind., March 18.—Louis Caldwell, living a few miles northeast of Boonville, accidentally shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Levia Caldwell. Caldwell was cleaning a shotgun, while his wife was sitting nearby. In some manner the weapon was discharged and Mrs. Caldwell was shot in the back. Death resulted instantly.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE WOMAN

Big Four Brakeman Drags Mrs. Oberting From Railroad Tracks.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., March 18.—Mrs. Marion Oberting, aged twenty-five, daughter-in-law of ex-Representative Victor Oberting, was rescued from instant death by P. F. Wade, a Big Four passenger brakeman. Mrs. Oberting was going to Morris to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bischoff, and was changing cars at Lawrenceburg Junction. She was crossing the double tracks when an eastbound passenger train came around a curve at a high rate of speed and she became so frightened that she was unable to move from the track.

Wade, who was pushing a heavy truck across the track, dropped it and made a rush for the woman, just as the engine struck the truck, pieces of which struck the brakeman and Mrs. Oberting, knocking them in front of a slowly moving west-bound passenger train. The engine was stopped a few feet away and they were rescued by other trainmen. Mrs. Oberting was painfully cut and bruised and suffered a nervous collapse. Wade was not seriously injured.

THE KEYSTONE STATE FACES GREAT STRIKE

New and Serious Phase of Philadelphia Situation.

Philadelphia, March 18.—Settlement of the car strike and the return to work of the union men who struck in sympathy with the carmen, turns on the conidtion of the reinstatement without prejudice of the 173 motormen and conductors who were discharged by the transit company for "intoxication, knocking down fares, and the good of the service," with the further guarantee of the company that these men will be given hearings individually and that causes will be produced in each case.

This condition has blocked an agreement between the company and its men. Vice President Clarence Wolfe of the P. R. T., who represents a majority of the board of directors, refused to grant the terms offered by C. O. Pratt, leader of the strikers. Mr. Wolfe maintains firmly that the company shall not be challenged in the right to hire and discharge workmen. Pratt contends that the right to hire or discharge is not attacked, but that the company's abuse of the right is the point at issue. Mr. Wolfe remained unmoved by appeals and insisted that the company could not stultify itself by re-employing the 173 men.

Pratt, having been informed by E. E. Greenwalt, president of the State Federation of Labor, that a state-wide strike would be ordered for Monday, March 21, in case the company remained obdurate, pressed his demands with confidence. No other issue remained between the company and the men, but the one mentioned could not be got over.

As soon as Greenwalt was told that an agreement seemed unlikely he telegraphed to all unions affiliated with the State Federation of Labor to go on strike Monday next. The situation, therefore, is briefly, that unless Mr. Wolfe is moved by strong influences he will stick to his colors and the state-wide strike will come.

There is a story that a special session of the Pennsylvania legislature is to be called by Governor Stuart in case the P. R. T. and the men do not come together in the next day or two for the purpose of enacting a compulsory arbitration law. There is no doubt that the leaders of the Republican party are much exercised over the unpleasant possibilities of a strike that would cover the entire state.

PUNISHED A MASHER

Princeton Woman Proved Competent to Take Care of Herself.

Princeton, Ind., March 18.—Mrs. Charles Rush of this city, while going home alone at night, a few blocks from the public square, was accosted by an unidentified well-dressed man, who, evidently mistaking her for someone else, sought to force his attentions on her. Mrs. Rush was equal to the occasion, however, and grabbing him, she choked him, beat him in the face with her fists, knocked a hole through his hat and caused him to lose it and a gold ring which he wore on his finger. The masher finally wriggled loose from his indignant antagonist and escaped.

Tramps Get Loot.

Goshen, Ind., March 18.—Many cottages at Lake Wawasee, a fashionable summer resort, have been broken into and articles of value taken during the last few weeks. Owners of cottages from all over northern Indiana have been called on to look after their property. Although the cottages are occupied only in summer, many owners leave valuable furniture and furnishings in these summer homes throughout the winter.

ANNA BELLE'S AND BROTHER JACK'S EASTER—

Children, look at Anna Belle and her brother Jack in the center picture. They are leaving the little church on Easter morning just as you do, and, after dinner is over they will enjoy an egg hunt on the lawn. See how happy they look; they're thinking, probably, of that rabbit's nest, hidden somewhere in the grass.

Their Easter costumes are shown this time, and to dress them, first, cut out all the figures and costumes up to the black outlines. Then, place the costumes of each over the figure, bend back the yellow straps and the costume will stay on.

Have you written your letter to Anna
